

Locally Crafted – Nordic Design: The North America Collection

Harvested from renewable forests in the USA and modified with over 20 years of expertise, Lunawood's North America Collection combines local craftsmanship with timeless Nordic design. The new Collection features premium products made from thermally modified Yellow Poplar and White Ash, enhanced completely without chemicals. Designed to meet the highest standards of technical performance and aesthetic appeal, Lunawood brings a touch of nature to all spaces, even in the most demanding environments.

Luna Panel System 1x6 Yellow Poplar

Crafted at our mill in Georgia from the finest hardwoods, we enhance Yellow Poplar and White Ash into premium cladding, decking, and batten products—perfectly suited for both exterior and interior applications.

Yellow Poplar offers excellent dimensional stability and durability, making it an ideal choice for facades and interior applications where precision and longevity are paramount. Its clear appearance provides a modern aesthetic that blends effortlessly with both contemporary and traditional designs.

White Ash, renowned for its superior strength and premium appearance, delivers exceptional resistance to wear, even in the most demanding environmental conditions. This makes it an excellent choice for decking and other heavy-use applications. The vivid grain patterns of Ash add a touch of natural elegance, creating visually stunning outdoor spaces.
